

CDA Training Pathways

Special ECE Programs Created Just For High Schools

Learn more and fill out this form:

go.nhsa.org/CDA

Partners

Earning a CDA® (Child Development Associate) credential demonstrates educators' knowledge, skills, and abilities in the early childhood education field as well as their commitment to professional development and is required by most states to work in early childhood education. To help build a strong pipeline of early childhood professionals throughout the country, The Academy at NHTSA has created a special curriculum just for high school students. Named an Apex Award winner for 2024 by Training Magazine, this CDA curriculum is designed to expose students to early childhood education through a Head Start lens. Head Start is the only federal to local program in the U.S. and has been providing support for our nation's youngest, most vulnerable children and their families since 1965.

Uniquely Designed for School Systems - Affordable, Accessible, Attainable

- No minimum or maximum student enrollment required
- Connections with Early/Head Start programs for practicum hours
- Online delivery = maximum flexibility
- Affordable single access pricing reaches more students at a lower cost
- High quality, engaging curriculum = higher matriculation rates
- Approved by The Council for Professional Recognition

Available Pathways	120 Hours	Self-Paced	Head Start Connected
Infant and Toddler	✓	✓	✓
Preschool	✓	✓	✓
Family Child Care Home	✓	✓	✓
Home Visitor	✓	✓	✓

Bring the nation's oldest and most respected early childhood education program into your school system today!

For more information email: cda@nhsa.org!